BEETHOVEN AND BORSCH

On the air and through the sea, singing along the wires at 1,088 feet per second, comes the news from Potsdam. Truman, Churchill and Stalin enjoyed borsch for dinner and later a bit of Beethoven as interpreted by that solid sender, President Truman, who seems to be trying out the theory that, "Music hath charms."

These weighty news releases have sent wild-eyed editors to plucking already threadbare coverlets, and have reduced haggard radio commentators to a frenzied juggling of reliable sources, while the country has broken out in a rash of quotes of Wilson's "open covenants, openly arrived at." But it cannot be expected that Potsdam news should tell all until fluid plans begin to jell into actual decisions. While proposals are in the pro and con stage the addition to the debate of voices of approximately 450 million citizens of the United States, Soviet Russia and England only could confuse not clarify the tremendous issues involved.

DON'T LOOK NOW

Ever since the first impromptu clambake when some primitives unexpectedly dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Neolithic and caught the little woman wearing last year's deer skin and the cave a "perfect shambles, my dear!" one of the laws right out in front for a photo finish in the Immutability Handicap is: "Let the dust fall where it may and there'll be guests today."

Just let the family habitat look like a cover illustration for House and Garden, with the lares and penates as bright and shining as the sourpuss of any school boy dreamed up by W. Shakespeare, and one would think the diggings had been declared out of bounds with a bad case of paratyphoid. There's not a guest in all the carloads that pass up and down the lane with a gay crew of passengers hopping out to ring doorbells. But contrariwise, the day the cleaning woman fails to show, it's for sure that the visiting firemen, milling about your front stoop will look like a mob scene right out of one of DeMille's colossals. On that afternoon when the going is rugged, the family absolutely limp after going all out for victory in the vegetable garden, then, fate throws a curve. Gleeps! don't look now but in that phaeton circling up the drive are none other than Mr. and Mrs. Van Nip and Tuck.

In the days when bonnie Bruce of Scotland took it on the lam, it seemed all that was needed to throw off pursuers was a web across the open doorway with the spider posting a "Do not disturb" sign. Then the posse, operating on the thesis (Dr. Kildare is wanted in the surgery) that no one could have entered without wrecking the web, went away from there. But, today, the Nip and Tucks just give a casual brush off to the webs festooning the front door, knowing that modern California spiders weave with the speed and precision of the Signal Corps spinning inter-communication wires.

However, even if the house looks as if it had had a going over by Admiral Halsey's boys, social psychologists say, never apologize. As the Van Nip and Tucks give the booby trap, laughingly called a living room, a double take, the thing to do is make with the lighter than air variety of chit-chat, just as if you knew all the answers, the only catch being the Nip and Tucks never make with the questions!

So if you're the hermit type, "Keep it clean," but if you like to be on the receiving end, remember. "A spotless house gathers no guests!"

Planning Commission Suggests Widening Of Santa Cruz For Post War Businesses

Post war civic improvements for Menlo Park was the main topic for discussion and debate at the recent Planning Commission meeting. Widening of Santa Cruz avenue was one recommendation to the city for the purpose of encouraging the business growth off of the main artery. It was suggested that the City Council contact the owners of the property at the corner of Santa Cruz avenue and El Camino, to ascertain what price the owners would ask from the city for 20 feet on the Santa Cruz side of their property, for use in the widening of the avenue.

Councilman Charles Burgess reported that the statute setting the limits of the period in which state funds would be available for use in post-war planning projects, had been changed so that funds would be available until June 30, 1947.

Vernon Barker, newly appointed member of the commision, was elected chairman and Paul Bryant was elected secretary, both for one year term.

The Planning Commission will meet again at the city hall August 17.

Dolores Derry New President Of NDGW

Native Daughters, Menlo Park parlor, held their installation ceremony last Tuesday night at Central school auditorium. A large crowd of members and guests witnessed the impressive ceremony.

Dolores Derry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Derry and granddaughter of Mrs. Catherine Derry, a charter member and "mother" of the local parlor, was installed as president.

Miss Derry posesses beauty and charm. She is a charter member of the Junior Native Daughters and is the fourth generation of her family to live in Menlo Park. Her great grandfather, John Maloney, was one of the first settlers. On her mother's side, she is also of pioneer stock—her great grandmother, Woodhams, was a member of the famous Donner party.

For her installation, Miss Derry wore a formal dress of pale pink silk marquisette and her corsage of gardenias, was a gift of her fiance, Sgt. Walter Matson.

Other officers installed were first, second and third vice presidents, Alice Robinson, Beverly Carnevale and Bette Rehorst; treasurer, Catherine Derry; financial secretary, Grace Loverich; recording secretary, Frances Maloney; organist, Norma Gugliemoni; marshal, Marie Rogers; trustees, Mae Blaisdell, Eva Carnevale and Mary Sparkes; outside sentinel, Louise Murray; inside sentinel, Jacquetta Scott; past president, Myrtle Alterton.

Thomas F. Cuff gave an interesting talk, as did past grand president Evelyn Carlson.

Program chairman, Agnes Mosher presented an interesting entertainment. A quartette composed of Isabelle Cortez, Alice Robinson, Beverly Carnevale and Bette Rehorst, sang several numbers and Terry Cowman, accompanied by Mrs. Edna Skare, sang two solos. Little four year old Lynn O'Callagan had the audience rocking with mirth with her solo about "Going to the beach to see her beau."

Refreshments were served and guests and members enjoyed a social hour.

Former Concert Singer Makes Home Here

Mrs. Ahna G. Mautz, formerly of Trenton and Philadelphia has purchased the John Glunz home on Valparaiso and will make Menlo Park her future home.

Mrs. Mautz is a well-known concert singer who has made many trips to California, where she appeared on the concert stage.

One of the first social affairs at her new home was the dinner and bridge party which she gave recently, at which her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Roberts and Walter John.

Apartment License Vigorously Protested; Council Approves $50,455 Budget

Another storm of protests envolving the newly adopted license ordinance consumed the majority of the City Council meeting Tuesday night. The protests centered around the license fee fixed for the operation of apartments within the city. Mrs. Emma Stribling declared that the $7.50 license fee was way out of line, considering the fact that her rentals had been frozen at pre-war level. At the time of her protest at a previous meeting, at which a petition was presented, the Council made a tentative adjustment of 50 cents per apartment per quarter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Strobeck protested that the license fee on the grounds that Palo Alto had a flat rate of $2.00 per year and that Menlo Park should not charge any more.

Councilman C. P. Burgess explained that Palo Alto couldn't be taken as an example, stating that "if we did, we wouldn't be able to run our government." He pointed out that Palo Alto operated its own utilities, consequently their cost of government was lower.

Henry Colletti charged that the license was leveled at the apartment house operators, whose margin of profit is little enough. He felt that any license fee was too much.

Mayor Donald Fisher explained that the licensing of apartments was not new, that such a law had been in effect since 1934 when the original license ordinance was adopted. The city, Fisher explained, had failed to collect since that time and now the license will be enforced. Mayor Fisher said that if the license was inequitable an adjustment would be made. The matter will be discussed again at the next meeting when a report on fees charged by other peninsula cities similar to Menlo Park, will be heard.

BUDGET ADOPTED

The budget for the fiscal year 1945-1946, amounting to $50,455 was adopted. The new budget provides for an increase in the recreation department from $3,579 last year to $6,800, $2,000 of which is earmarked for major improvement. Due to the increase in the police personnel and rising salaries, the police department appropriation was upped from $16,995 to $18,880. For the improvement of city streets during the coming year, the budged provides the sum of $12,450.

J. W. Pembroke, taxpayer, said the budged was not reasonable, declaring that $12.50 for every man, woman and child in Menlo Park couldn't be called reasonable. The accused the Council of having "a champagne appetite with a beer income."

When Mr. Pembroke was challenged as to how the city could reduce the budget, he made no comment, stating that all he could see was the 50 thousand dollars.

OTHER BUSINESS

A copy of a letter written to Congressman Jack Anderson by Mayor Fisher was given the press which outlined the advantages of the annexation of Dibble hospital to the city. The material was requested by Anderson for use in presenting the matter to the war department.

"1. Permit southward expansion of the city.

"2. Obtain additional state revenue," were the reasons contained in the communication.

L. T. Diebels was awarded the chore of auditing the city's books for a fee of $165.00. Mr. Diebels is a certified accountant and has handled the job for several years.

The Council proceeded to outline some of the rules and regulations to be used by the civil service board in selecting new employees.

Wallace Brown reported that he hoped to have some information on the honor roll to be constructed in memorial park by the city, for the next meeting.

Bills were voted to be paid and the Council agreed to adjourn until Tuesday, August 14, 7:30 at the city hall.

Broadcast From London

Major William Walsh, US Army chaplain, who attended theological seminary here, will be heard on "We Speak From London" to be broadcast Saturday, July 28, at 4:30 p.m. over station KGO. The program features northern California servicemen and women stationed in Europe.

Las Lomitas Nine Again Victorious

It was the usual story last Sunday in the Southern County Junior C League. Las Lomitas winning over High-Y 7 to 2 and Nativity Youth taking the measure of Ravenswood 9 to 7.

Del Sardo, a Central school boy, pitched three innings for Lomitas and although shedding his pin feathers, made a good showing. He was replaced by Red Moore in the fourth who only allowed one hit. Silvestri, for High-Y, was given poor support and the best his mates could do was four hits that accounted for two runs. Moore and Anderson made six hits between them, the last mentioned, hitting a homer.

Nativity Youth, although facing a patched up Ravenswood team, had to hustle to put over the two winning markers in the seventh and last inning.

Spalding and a skyscraping lad by the name of McDonald, did the mound duty for Ravenswood but the nine hits annexed by Nativity was enough to make them the victors. In the sixth, with the score deadlocked at 7-7, manager Joe Kelly of Nativity, injected his pony battery, Danny Sullivan and "Cupid" Wilkerson into the game and the young duo put the winning finish to the game. B. Payne, Bob Brown and David Rea was a trio of recruits who made their initial appearance with the oYuths. The umpiring of Signor Escobar was a pleasing feature of the two games.

Next Sunday's Games

Nativity Youth vs. High-Y, 1:15 p.m.

Las Lomitas vs. Ravenswood at 3:15 p.m.

Scout Executives Feted At Thomas Cuff Home

Mrs. Thomas Cuff, Girl Scout deputy for Menlo Park, entertained a group of Girl Scout executives at her home on Johnson avenue last Thursday.

Brunch was served in the patio and Mrs. Cuff presented each guest with a little hand-painted pottery vase filled with moss.

Among the leaders in scout work present were Miss Virginia Lunning, field secretary, who gave an evaluation and general report on day camps; Miss Edna Forward, executive secretary; Miss Jean Clott, this year's camp director; Mrs. Malcolm Paterson, Sequoia district commissioner, who expressed her appreciation for the services rendered by the group during the recent camp. Mrs. George Metlar, Woodside, chairman for the entire district; Mrs. Clifford Hatton, Menlo Park camp chairman also spoke in appreciation of the work done by the group as a whole and the following scout leaders, whose efforts made the Day Camp so successful: Mesdames William Hurst, Harold Staub, Robert Lindquist, Robert Moore, Jewel Jensen, Margaret Gilroy and L. C. Scotford.

Also present as Mrs. Cuff's guests were Mesdames Clyde Harrington, Walter Sjosten, Roland Midgley, Wade Hampton, George Walsh, Louis Lundborg and Aylett Sparkes. Mrs. Sparkes is leaving Menlo and this was her farewell meeting with the group. Mrs. Lundborg is a new member of the council, who will be in the organization department.

PASSES EXAMINATION

Philip George Helfrich, son of Mrs. Evangelist Helfrich of Menlo Park, has successfully passed competitive scholastic examination for appointment as Cadet-Midshipman in the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Corps.

Citizens' League Sees Need For Police Control

Directors of the Citizens' Service League of the Ravenswood District met at the Ravenswood School in East Palo Alto last week and voted to render any assistance possible to the Grand Jury in it's investigation of gambling rackets. Any evidence of these in the Ravenswood District will be turned over to the Grand Jury. Recent atempts to install gambling houses on the Bayshore highway have met with raids by deputy sheriffs.

Speeding through the district, not only on the Bayshore highway but on residential strets was discussed after a report by John W. Lemon of the private patrol, and this matter is to be referred to the Grand Jury. The California Highway Department will be asked to lengthen the time of the yellow signal at the University avenue crossing, as heavy trucks, "highballing" through the district are often unable to stop in time for the red signal. Several near accidents, and some real ones have occured because of this, it was explained.

Moving against an increase in the number of "On Sale" liquor licenses on the Bayshore highway and adjoining streets, the point was stressed that there are now nearly as many "On Sale" liquor establishments in the district as all other retail businesses combined. A letter was received from George R. Reilley of the Board of Equalization in which he stated his belief that "there are already too many licenses in this area, especially on the Bayshore highway, which is a rather important speedway." No new licenses will be issued in San Mateo County for some time to come, because of the signing by Governor Warren of Senate Bill 800, which limits the number of licenses in a county to one to each 100 of population. There are now many more than that number in this county, it was pointed out. In an action taken recently, the County Board of Supervisors protested to the Board of Equalization against the location of any more licenses in the Ravenswood area.

Overexuberance of servicemen on the streets of the district late at night was also discussed. It was brought out that several SP's are in the area nightly, and hold Navy men in check, but no Army MP'S are stationed there. It was voted to ask the Commanding General of the Ninth Service Command to assign MP's for evening duty in the district.

As a further means of obtaining some local control, formation of a police district was considered, and a committee was appointed to survey the possibilities along this line. Major Henry McFeely, J. H. Stubbe and John Cleese were appointed, and requested to bring information on this subject to the next meeting.

Need for inter-city bus service to all peninsula points from the district was made a matter of discussion at the next meeting, and the transportation committee was asked to invite officials of the Greyhound bus company to attend and furnish information on how and when such service may be obtained.

The recent community picnic held at Flood Park proved to be a success, though not as well attended as it should have been, according to a report by Lt. Col. J. L. Connolly, who was in charge of the affair. He was given a vote of thanks for his work.

The next meeting of the League August 16 at the Ravenswood school will be an important meeting and the public is invited.

Don't Read This Unless You Want To Get Well

The colon is the most common focal center of infection, due to the fact that it is a natural incubator and constantly harbors vicious disease-producing germs. These give rise to secondary infections in any part of the body, for example: Arthritis, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Appendicitis, Colds, Respiratory diseases, Acne, Eczema, Psoriasis, Boils, Carbuncles, etc.

The decaying contents of an inefficient bowel liberate toxins that benumb the nerves, dull the mentality and produce the numerous symptoms of auto-intoxication or intestinal toxemia.

Chronic constipation affects the whole body as well as the mental outlook. The harmful effects of chronic constipation are unfortunately not confined to the bowel itself. The toxins formed in the colon weaken and injure the walls to such an extent that they are no longer able to prevent these poisons from entering the blood and lymph vessels. By these means they are distributed throughout the body and account for much of the malaise and the vague, dull headaches, pains and discomforts of daily life.

A Colon impacted and distended with irritating material will produce a back pressure, causing in turn stasis and mechanical upset and reversal in the normal intestinal gradient (direction of flow). In this manner reverse peristaltic waves are produced which, even though mild, commonly give rise to the following symptoms: Lack of appetite vomiting, heart-burn, belching, nausea, biliousness, coated tongue, four breath, etc.

Ratiocinations

LOUIS J. STELLMAN

Ever since Harry S. Truman stepped, unexpectedly and, perhaps, a trifle unwillingly into the shoes of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a curious and hopeful American public has been wondering how he would fulfill the obligations of a greatness suddenly thrust upon him.

His earlier, simpler answers to the test have been almost completely satisfactory. Directness and sincerity have marked his course and his audience has applauded. But, now that he is matched against two masters in the game of Power Politics and World Intrigue, people are wondering, not without apprehension, whether he will bring back his share of the table stakes—or even his shirt.

Personally I have little fear about President Truman. He has had good training, crucial experience. Neither farm work nor the successive stages of American politics between the plow and the Senate are lacking in hard, character-forming experience. The facts that he got his start through the sponsorship of a notorious and wily-political boss, yet sacrificed neither dignity nor honor as a result; that his personal record and relations made him acceptable to friends and enemies in Congress and that his modesty and efficiency are conceded by all, proclaim him by all, proclaim him worthy timber in our ship of state.

Generalissimo Stalin, who was also a humble farm-lad and made his way to the head of a great nation through obstacles similar to those of Truman, may see world affairs from a more common view-point with a former tiller of soils than a grandee of our social world, such as Roosevelt, for all his keen popular sympathies, undoubtedly was. Stalin is essentially a simple man, and, despite his divergent ideology, has a fundamental kinship with Truman which he could not have had with either Roosevelt or Churchill.

Truman is reputed to be well grounded in the rules of poker, which, after all, will influence many of the decisions arrived at in Potsdam. His friendly and engaging personality will do him no harm, especially as it is reinforced by the tough moral fibre indicated by his political history.

One learns that President Truman was asked by Churchill and Stalin to preside over the opening session of the Big Three conference. If this was "sucker bait," there is little danger that our president will be deceived by the "honor." If, as quite conceivably might be the case, it was a spontaneous tribute to his quality as an untried but promising statesman, we have much to hope from the Potsdam confab. Anyhow, my bet is on H. S. T. (Am I the first to designate him thus?) and I'm not asking for odds.

Two important new railroad travel restrictions have been ordered by the U. S. Office of Defense Transportation.

Under O.D.T. Order #52, you cannot reserve a train berth or seat more than five days in advance.

Under O. D. T. Order #53, all Pullman sleeping cars operating for 450 miles or less have been discontinued.

These two orders apply to all railroads. Admittedly, they are drastic—but vitally necessary. Additional sleeping cars must be made available for veterans returning from Europe for discharge or for redeployment to the Pacific.

While these regulations will cause some inconvenience, we feel sure everyone will approve the effort to serve better the men from overseas to whom we owe so much. We know that the families of boys who are coming home will have no question as to the merits of the orders.

As far as Southern Pacific is concerned, our guiding principle has been "the military comes first," and we are cooperating one hundred percent in carrying out the O. D. T. orders—in letter, and in spirit.

With nearly twenty thousand S. P. men and women in the armed forces, we, too, have a real and personal interest in the welfare and comfort of service men and women.
